When firſt I ken'd young San_dy's Face, he ſung and look'd wi
. fic a grace he ſung and look'd wi fic a grace, he ſtole my heart but did na care, the Lad he loo'd a Laſs more fair, and oft I ſung o'er f brae and burn, how ſweet the Love that meets re__turn.

2

He loo'd a Laſs wi fickle mind,
Was ſometimes cauld and ſometimes kind,
Which made the lovefick Laddy rue,
For ſhe was cauld when he was true,
He mourn'd and ſung o'er brae and burn,
How ſweet the love that meets return.

3

One day a pretty wreath he twin'd,
Where li'lacks with ſweet cowſlips Join'd,
To make a garland for her hair,
But ſhe refuſ'd a gift ſo fair,
This ſcorn he cry'd can ne'er be borne,
But ſweet the love that meets return.

4

Juſt then he met my tell tale e'en,
And love ſo true is ſooneſt ſeen,
Dear Laſs ſaid he my heart is thine,
For thy ſoft wiſhes are like mine,
Now Jenny in her turn may mourn,
How ſweet the love that meets return.
